

Academic Position in Anatomical Pathology

Unity Health Toronto and the University of Toronto's Department of Laboratory Medicine and Pathobiology are seeking applications from qualified and highly motivated individuals to fill a permanent Anatomical Pathology position in our Centre. The successful applicant must be eligible for an academic appointment at the rank of Assistant, Associate or full Professor at the University of Toronto. The start date will be 05/01/2024 or mutually agreed upon.

Unity Health Toronto comprises St. Michael's Hospital, St. Joseph's Health Centre and Providence Healthcare in Toronto. The network has a focus on inner city health as well as world-class care in endoscopy, surgery and oncology. The successful candidate will provide excellence in our surgical pathology diagnostic clinical practice with a subspecialty focus: training and/or experience in Breast, Lung, Molecular or Genitourinary pathology would be preferred. Participation in frozen section diagnosis and after-hours call is expected; participation in the autopsy service would be an asset. The successful candidate will also contribute to the academic mission of the Department, via participation in collaborative research, undergraduate teaching and residency training programs. The Department's strategic plan includes a focus on diagnostic innovation, test utilization and clinical engagement. Interest in one of these would be an asset.

Applicants must be eligible for medical licensure in the province of Ontario and must hold postgraduate qualifications in Anatomic, Clinical or General Pathology. The successful candidate should be eligible for an academic appointment in the Department of Laboratory Medicine and Pathobiology. Fellowship training or demonstrated subspecialty expertise/commitment is favored. Academic rank will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Compensation will be in accordance with the uniform level of compensation in the Province of Ontario, where the Ministry of Health and Long Term Care has implemented a total compensation package that will equalize the successful candidate's compensation with that of other Laboratory Physicians in the Province of Ontario (currently $374,876.55)

Evaluation of applications will begin Feb.15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled. Please forward your application, including your curriculum vitae and the names and contact information of three references, to:

Dr. C. Streutker, Chief and Medical Director, Department of Laboratory Medicine, Unity Health Toronto

St. Michael's Hospital, 30 Bond Street, Toronto, Ontario M5B 1W8, Canada

E-Mail: cathy.streutker@unityhealth.to

As one of the largest departments of its kind, the Department of Laboratory Medicine and Pathobiology (LMP) has more than 450 faculty including basic scientists, pathologists, laboratory physicians and scientists. By combining research with clinical practice, we are uniquely positioned to translate new findings into reality. As a result, we are known as leaders in diagnosing and treating and treating patients and populations, making an impact locally, nationally and internationally. For more information about the Department of Laboratory Medicine and Pathobiology, University of Toronto please visit our website at www.lmp.utoronto.ca.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

Unity Health Toronto and the University of Toronto embrace Diversity and are building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission.

Accessibility Statement

Unity Health Toronto and The University of Toronto strive to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seek to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

Unity Health Toronto and The University of Toronto are committed to the principles of The Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations are required for applicants with disabilities.